

The Bad Cats and the Duck

Here are 2 bad cats. They sit in the hot sand.

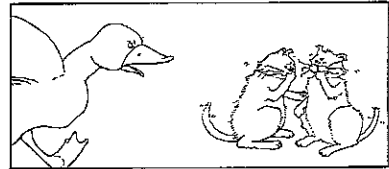

They see a little duck. He is by the mud.

The cats run by the duck and hit him.

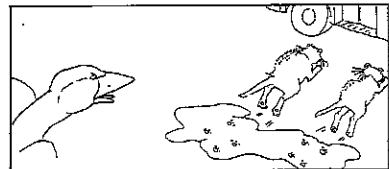

The duck has a mom. She sees the bad cats.

The little duck's mom is mad. She runs to the cats.

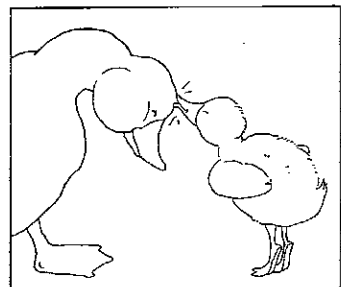

The bad cats see the duck's mom. They see she is mad.

The cats run in the mud. They go under a bus.

The little duck is not sad. He kisses his mom.

Ann has a backpack. Sam has a backpack.

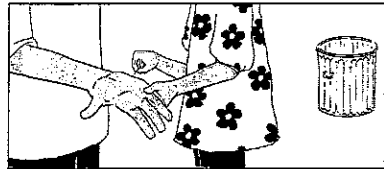

Riff has a little pack. He runs and runs.

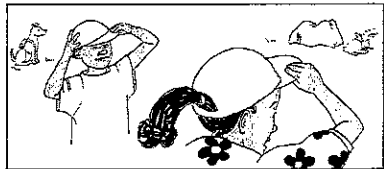

Sam has a map in his pack. A pin is in the map.

The pin sticks in Sam's hand. Ann gets the pin.

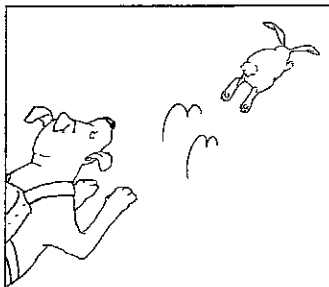

Sam rubs his hand. He puts the pin in a can.

The sun is up. It gets hot. Sam and Ann put on caps.

Ann sees a rabbit. The rabbit naps by a rock.

Riff runs to get the rabbit, but it can hop fast.

What Did They Do?

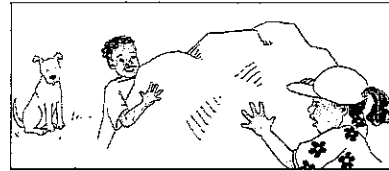

What did Sam and Ann do?

They ran and ran.

Where did Ann and Sam run?

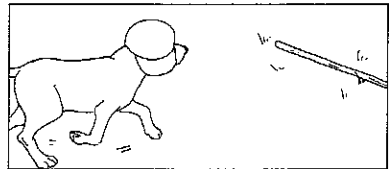

They ran to the rock.

What did Ann put on? She put on a cap.

Did Sam put his cap on Riff?

Yes, but it didn't fit.

Where did Riff go? He ran to get a stick.

Did Sam's cap fall off? Yes, it is on the mop.

What did Dad do? He sat and had a nap in the sun.

Where was Mom? She sat by Riff down at the pond.

The Big Pig

Here is a big pig. He likes to do what all pigs do.

The big pig has fun in the mud.
He likes to run in it.

The pig likes to dig in the mud.
He digs and digs.

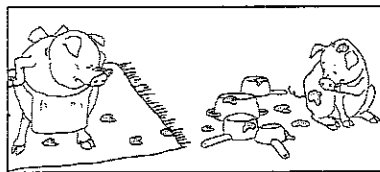

The big pig gets mud on his back.
He likes to have mud on his back.

But if mud gets in his eyes, the pig is sad. He can't see.

The pig goes back to his mom.
He gets mud on the rug.

He gets mud on the pans.
His mom is mad at him.

The big pig mops up the mud.
His mom hugs and kisses him.

A Bug in a Rug

A bug was sad. He did not have a home.

He saw a big rock. He ran and got under the rock.

As the bug sat under the big rock,
a rat ran up to him.

The rat said, “You can’t sit here.
The rock is my home.”

The bug saw a rag. He dug under it.

But a big bug was under the rag.
She said, “The rag is my home.”

The sad bug saw a big dog on a rug. The bug said, “Can I sit down?”

The dog said, “Yes, you can.”
The bug was snug in the dog’s rug.

Ann and Sam sat in the sun.
They saw a little cat by a log.

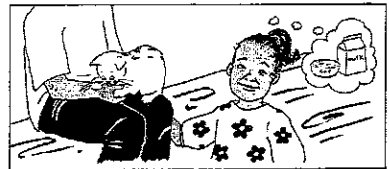

The cat had mud on its back.
She had a cut on her lip.

The cat sat in Ann's lap. Ann said,
“Little cat, do you have a home?”

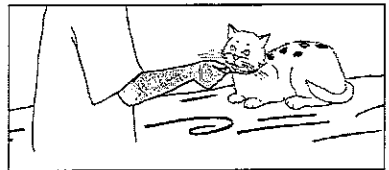

Sam said, “Ann, the cat likes me.
She likes to lick my hand.”

Ann said, “We can get you a lot of milk. Milk can fill you up.”

Sam saw a tag on the cat.
On the tag was her name.

The cat's name was Muff. The tag had the name of a man.

Sam said, “You are a lost cat.
Dad can call the man.”

Ann fed Muff lots of milk. She let Muff get up on her bed.

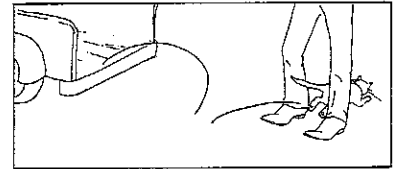

Sam said, “Dad, did you call the man? Is Muff his pet cat?”

Dad said, “Muff is his cat. He had Muff in his red truck.

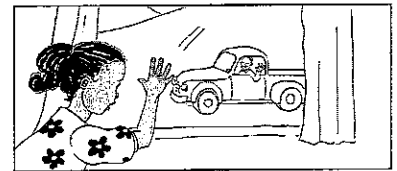

Muff did not like trucks. She ran out the back of the truck.

The man did try to stop her, but she ran under his legs.

Muff ran up a hill. The sun set and she got lost.”

Ann said, “I see a red truck. The man is here to get Muff.”

The man was glad to see Muff. He got back his pet cat.

A tall man has a pet pig.
He calls her Big Red.

She has red legs and a big neck. She is a big, big pig.

Some men have pet dogs.
Some men have pet cats.

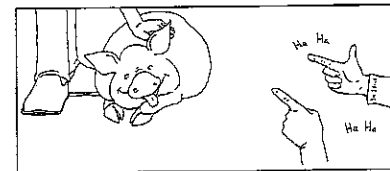

But the tall man has a pet pig.
His pet is Big Red.

If the man calls her, Big Red comes and sits by him.

The tall man pets her neck.
Big Red licks her legs.

But some men do not like Big
Red. They make fun of her.

They make fun of the tall man.
The man is mad and sad.

The Pet Pig: Part 2

The tall man says, “Do not make fun of Big Red and me.”

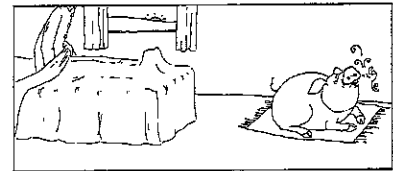

“A pig can be a pet,” he says.
But the men will not stop.

“Come on home, Big Red,” says the tall man. “Let’s go to bed.”

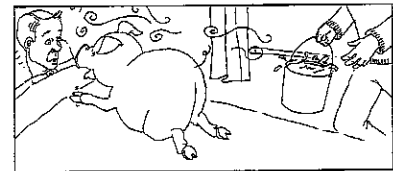

The sun sets in the west. The man gets into his bed.

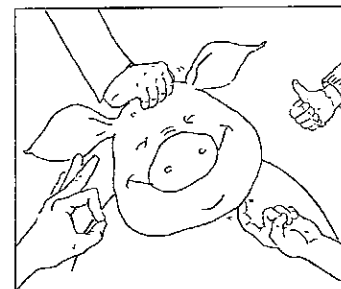

Big Red is on a little rug by the wall. She smells smoke.

Big Red gets up on the bed.
The man smells smoke.

The tall man gets up. All the men come and help him.

The men do not make fun of Big Red. They say she is the best pet.

My Red Truck

Here I am in my big red truck.
It can go fast.

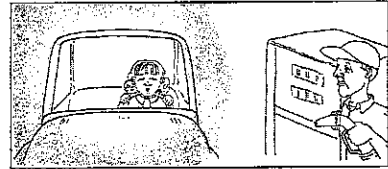

My dog and cat are at home.
They can not go in the truck.

I go up the big hill. I can go down the hill.

Here is some wet fog. I will not go fast if I can not see.

Here I get gas in my big red truck. I say, "Fill it up."

I see some wet rocks. I can not stop my red truck.

The red truck skids and hits a big log. I get a flat.

I am back at my home. This is the end of my trip.
