AP WORLD HISTORY

Date: January 2009
Proposed Grade Level(s): 10th
Grading: A – F

Subject Area: AP World History
Course Length: 1 year
Number of Credits: 5 per semester
Subject Area Credit: World Cultures

Prerequisite: Must have an overall GPA of 3.0, and a minimum of a B in World Geography.

BRIEF COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The purpose of the Advanced Placement World History course is to use relevant factual knowledge taken from primary and secondary sources with high-order thinking skills to acquire a greater understanding of the development of global processes, from ancient times to the present day. The course emphasizes the character of change and continuity in world structures and their impacts. Furthermore, this study will evaluate the interchange of major societies in the global community and the results of that interplay. Throughout the duration of this course, the instruction lends itself to chronological and thematic perspective.

GENERAL GOALS/PURPOSES:

AP World History will focus on several major areas of study:

- Impact of interaction among major societies (trade, systems of international exchange, war and diplomacy).
- The relationship of change and continuity across the world history periods covered in this course.
- Impact of technology and demography on people and the environment (population growth and decline, disease, manufacturing, migrations, agriculture and weaponry).
- Systems of social structure and gender structure (comparing major features within and among societies and assessing change).
- Cultural and intellectual developments and interactions among and within societies.
- Changes in functions and structures of states and in attitudes towards states and political entities (political culture), including the emergence of the nation-state (types of political organizations).

STUDENT READING COMPONENT:

Students will receive instruction on the effective use of their textbooks important reading techniques as well as analytical development skills to help them in the understanding of their textbooks. AP World History will include a plethora of support materials which students will utilize to further their knowledge of the focus areas.

STUDENT WRITING COMPONENT:

Students will have several opportunities for exploratory research/reports as well as an interactive notebook, projects, and learning MLA format to show their writing skills.
STUDENT ORAL COMPONENT:

Students will have opportunities to orally present both individual and group work. In addition, classroom discussions will allow students to sharpen their debate skills and to present their viewpoints in a public setting.

STUDENT ASSESSMENT:

Student assessment will come in many forms including participation, projects, reports, tests, etc.

DETAILED UNITS OF INSTRUCTION:

1. The text book being considered is McGraw Hill’s Traditions & Encounters: A Global Perspective on the Past.

   Key areas to address:

   - The Early Complex Societies, 3500 to 500 B.C.E. Pre-history as well as the development of the earliest known complex societies across the globe.
   - The Formation of Classical Societies, 500 B.C.E. to 500 C.E. Classical societies, including Persia, China, Greece and the Roman Empire.
   - The Postclassical Era, 500 to 1000 C.E. The Eastern Roman Empire, the rise of Islam and the emergence of Christian society in Western Europe.
   - An Age of Cross-Cultural Interaction, 1000 to 1500 C.E. Nomadic empires and Eurasian integration, as well as Western Europe in the middle ages and the societies of sub-Saharan Africa.
   - The Origins of Global Interdependence, 1500 to 1800. The transformation of Europe, the Islamic Empires and change in East Asia.
   - An Age of Revolution, Industry and Empire, 1750 to 1914. The growth of industrial society and the building of global Empires.
   - Contemporary Global Realignments, 1914 to Present. The Great War, the End of Empires and building a world without borders.

SUBJECT AREA CONTENT STANDARDS TO BE ADDRESSED:

10.1 Students relate the moral and ethical principles in ancient Greek and Roman philosophy, in Judaism, and in Christianity to the development of Western political thought.

   1. Analyze the similarities and differences in Judeo-Christian and Greco-Roman views of law, reason and faith, and duties of the individual.
   2. Trace the development of the Western political ideas of the rule of law and illegitimacy of tyranny, using selections from Plato’s Republic and Aristotle’s Politics.
   3. Consider the influence of the U.S. Constitution on political systems in the contemporary world.

10.2 Students compare and contrast the Glorious Revolution of England, the American Revolution, and the French Revolution and their enduring effects worldwide on the political expectations for self-government and individual liberty.

   1. Compare the major ideas of philosophers and their effects on the democratic revolutions in England, the United States, France, and Latin America (e.g., John Locke, Charles-Louis Montesquieu, Jean-Jacques Rousseau, Simón Bolívar, Thomas Jefferson, and James Madison).
2. List the principles of the Magna Carta, the English Bill of Rights (1689), the American Declaration of Independence (1776), the French Declaration of the Rights of Man and the Citizen (1789), and the U.S. Bill of Rights (1791).
3. Understand the unique character of the American Revolution, its spread to other parts of the world, and its continuing significance to other nations.
4. Explain how the ideology of the French Revolution led France to develop from a constitutional monarchy to a democratic despotism to a Napoleonic empire.
5. Discuss how nationalism spread across Europe with Napoleon but was repressed for a generation under the Congress of Vienna and Concert of Europe until the Revolutions of 1848.

10.3 Students analyze the effects of the Industrial Revolution in England, France, Germany, Japan, and the United States.

1. Analyze why England was the first country to industrialize.
2. Examine how scientific and technological changes and new forms of energy brought about massive social, economic, and cultural change (e.g., the inventions and discoveries of James Watt, Eli Whitney, Henry Bessemer, Louis Pasteur, and Thomas Edison).
3. Describe the growth of population, rural to urban migration, and growth of cities associated with the Industrial Revolution.
4. Trace the evolution of work and labor, including the demise of the slave trade and the effects of immigration, mining and manufacturing, division of labor, and the union movement.
5. Understand the connections among natural resources, entrepreneurship, labor, and capital in an industrial economy.
6. Analyze the emergence of capitalism as a dominant economic pattern and the responses to it, including Utopianism, Social Democracy, Socialism, and Communism.
7. Describe the emergence of Romanticism in art and literature (e.g., the poetry of William Blake and William Wordsworth), social criticism (e.g., the novels of Charles Dickens), and the move away from Classicism in Europe.

10.4 Students analyze patterns of global change in the era of New Imperialism in at least two of the following regions or countries: Africa, Southeast Asia, China, India, Latin America, and the Philippines.

1. Describe the rise of industrial economies and their link to imperialism and colonialism (e.g., the role played by national security and strategic advantage; moral issues raised by the search for national hegemony, Social Darwinism, and the missionary impulse; material issues such as land, resources, and technology).
2. Discuss the locations of the colonial rule of such nations as England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Russia, Spain, Portugal, and the United States.
3. Explain imperialism from the perspective of the colonizers and the colonized and the varied immediate and long-term responses by the people under colonial rule.
4. Describe the independence struggles of the colonized regions of the world, including the roles of leaders, such as Sun Yat-sen in China, and the roles of ideology and religion.

10.5 Students analyze the causes and course of the First World War.

1. Analyze the arguments for entering into war presented by leaders from all sides of the Great War and the role of political and economic rivalries, ethnic and ideological conflicts, domestic discontent and disorder, and propaganda and nationalism in mobilizing the civilian population in support of "total war."
2. Examine the principal theaters of battle, major turning points, and the importance of geographic factors in military decisions and outcomes (e.g., topography, waterways, distance, and climate).

3. Explain how the Russian Revolution and the entry of the United States affected the course and outcome of the war.

4. Understand the nature of the war and its human costs (military and civilian) on all sides of the conflict, including how colonial peoples contributed to the war effort.

5. Discuss human rights violations and genocide, including the Ottoman government's actions against Armenian citizens.

10.6 Students analyze the effects of the First World War.

1. Analyze the aims and negotiating roles of world leaders, the terms and influence of the Treaty of Versailles, Woodrow Wilson's Fourteen Points, and the causes and effects of the United States rejection of the League of Nations on world politics.

2. Describe the effects of the war and resulting peace treaties on population movement, the international economy, and shifts in the geographic and political borders of Europe and the Middle East.

3. Understand the widespread disillusionment with prewar institutions, authorities, and values that resulted in a void that was later filled by totalitarians.

4. Discuss the influence of World War I on literature, art, and intellectual life in the West (e.g., Pablo Picasso, the "lost generation" of Gertrude Stein, Ernest Hemingway).

10.7 Students analyze the rise of totalitarian governments after World War I.

1. Understand the causes and consequences of the Russian Revolution, including Lenin's use of totalitarian means to seize and maintain control (e.g., the Gulag).

2. Trace Stalin's rise to power in the Soviet Union and the connection between economic policies, political policies, the absence of a free press, and systematic violations of human rights (e.g., the Terror Famine in Ukraine).

3. Analyze the rise, aggression, and human costs of totalitarian regimes (Fascist and Communist) in Germany, Italy, and the Soviet Union, noting especially their common and dissimilar traits.

10.8 Students analyze the causes and consequences of World War II.

1. Compare the German, Italian, and Japanese drives for empire in the 1930s, including the 1937 Rape of Nanking, other atrocities in China, and the Stalin-Hitler Pact of 1939.

2. Understand the role of appeasement, nonintervention (isolationism), and the domestic distractions in Europe and the United States prior to the outbreak of World War II.

3. Identify and locate the Allied and Axis powers on a map and discuss the major turning points of the war, the principal theaters of conflict, key strategic decisions, and the resulting war conferences and political resolutions, with emphasis on the importance of geographic factors.

4. Describe the political, diplomatic, and military leaders during the war (e.g., Winston Churchill, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Emperor Hirohito, Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini, Joseph Stalin, Douglas MacArthur, and Dwight Eisenhower).

5. Analyze the Nazi policy of pursuing racial purity, especially against the European Jews; its transformation into the Final Solution; and the Holocaust that resulted in the murder of six million Jewish civilians.

6. Discuss the human costs of the war, with particular attention to the civilian and military losses in Russia, Germany, Britain, the United States, China, and Japan.
10.9 Students analyze the international developments in the post-World World War II world.

1. Compare the economic and military power shifts caused by the war, including the Yalta Pact, the development of nuclear weapons, Soviet control over Eastern European nations, and the economic recoveries of Germany and Japan.

2. Analyze the causes of the Cold War, with the free world on one side and Soviet client states on the other, including competition for influence in such places as Egypt, the Congo, Vietnam, and Chile.

3. Understand the importance of the Truman Doctrine and the Marshall Plan, which established the pattern for America's postwar policy of supplying economic and military aid to prevent the spread of Communism and the resulting economic and political competition in arenas such as Southeast Asia (i.e., the Korean War, Vietnam War), Cuba, and Africa.

4. Analyze the Chinese Civil War, the rise of Mao Tse-tung, and the subsequent political and economic upheavals in China (e.g., the Great Leap Forward, the Cultural Revolution, and the Tiananmen Square uprising).

5. Describe the uprisings in Poland (1952), Hungary (1956), and Czechoslovakia (1968) and those countries' resurgence in the 1970s and 1980s as people in Soviet satellites sought freedom from Soviet control.

6. Understand how the forces of nationalism developed in the Middle East, how the Holocaust affected world opinion regarding the need for a Jewish state, and the significance and effects of the location and establishment of Israel on world affairs.

7. Analyze the reasons for the collapse of the Soviet Union, including the weakness of the command economy, burdens of military commitments, and growing resistance to Soviet rule by dissidents in satellite states and the non-Russian Soviet republics.

10.10 Students analyze instances of nation-building in the contemporary world in at least two of the following regions or countries: the Middle East, Africa, Mexico and other parts of Latin America, and China.

1. Understand the challenges in the regions, including their geopolitical, cultural, military, and economic significance and the international relationships in which they are involved.

2. Describe the recent history of the regions, including political divisions and systems, key leaders, religious issues, natural features, resources, and population patterns.

3. Discuss the important trends in the regions today and whether they appear to serve the cause of individual freedom and democracy.

10.11 Students analyze the integration of countries into the world economy and the information, technological, and communications revolutions (e.g., television, satellites, and computers).

THIS COURSE WILL PREPARE STUDENTS FOR THE CAHSEE AND/OR CSTs:

Social Science

LAB FEE, IF REQUIRED:

None
DISTRICT ESLR’S TO BE ADDRESSED:

Students will be:

- Self-Directed Learners: who will be able to use their notes, software, and textbooks to assist them in their learning outside of the classroom.

- Efficient Communicators: who can utilize social science concepts through group activities and oral presentations.

- Quality Producers: who understand the relevance of organization, time management, and display this ability through their work.

- Constructive Thinkers: who are able to analyze cause and effect, distinguish fact and opinion, problem solve, synthesize information, and transfer information from one medium to the next.

- Collaborative Workers: who can work in a variety of settings in culturally diverse groups. They will create their own teams and study groups to further their understanding of the content area.

- Responsible Citizens: who understand the concept of RAD (responsibility, accountability, and discipline) which will further develop them as model citizens.
