COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Intensive English 800 is a grade-level course, modified for individual student needs and taught by a special education teacher with a reduced student to teacher ratio. The course is designed to provide a comprehensive curriculum in English language arts with integration of the CA ELD Standards that were adopted by the SBE November 2012 (CDE 2014).

This course provides an accelerated, intensive intervention pathway that supports the needs of English Only or English Language Learners whose academic performance, including proficiency in English language arts and literacy in reading and writing, is two or more years below grade level. The materials in this program are designed for students receiving grade level instruction while providing a rich curriculum supporting the five following themes: Meaning Making, Language Development, Effective Expression, Content Knowledge, with a particular emphasis on academic vocabulary acquisition, decoding, morphology, fluency and other reading foundation skills. The adaptive materials are also designed to accelerate students’ successful reentry into a basic program or to remediate literacy skills in accordance with students’ individual IEP goals and include clear instructional plans and tools for entering and exiting the program. Specialized Academic Instruction is employed, adapting, as appropriate in accordance with student IEPs, the content, methodology, or delivery of instruction, to ensure student access to the general curriculum.

This course calls for students to engage in a range of tasks (analyze, interpret, assess, integrate and evaluate, collaborate, adapt, apply) that requires the critical thinking, problem solving, and collaboration demanded of 21st century living and learning, with emphasis on reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills.

GENERAL GOALS/ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS:

- Students develop the readiness for college, careers, and civic life.
- Students attain the capacities of literate individuals.
- Students become broadly literate.
- Students make progress on individual IEP goals.
- Students acquire the skills for living and learning in the 21st century.

COMMON CORE STATE STANDARD READING COMPONENT:

Reading Anchor Standards (K-12)

Key Ideas & Details

1. Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.
2. Determine central ideas or themes of a text and analyze their development; summarize the key supporting details and ideas.
3. Analyze how and why individuals, events, or ideas develop and interact over the course of a text.

Craft & Structure

4. Interpret words and phrases as they are used in a text, including determining technical, connotative, and figurative meanings, and analyze how specific word choices shape meaning, or tone.
5. Analyze the structure of texts, including how specific sentences, paragraphs, and larger portions of the text (e.g., a section, chapter, scene, or stanza) relate to each other and the whole.
6. Assess how point of view or purpose shapes the content and style of a text.

Integration of Knowledge & Ideas

7. Integrate and evaluate content presented in diverse media and formats, including visually and quantitatively, as well as in words.
8. Delineate and evaluate the argument and specific claims in a text, including the validity of the reasoning as well as the relevance and sufficiency of the evidence.
9. Analyze how two or more texts address similar themes or topics in order to build knowledge or to compare the approaches the authors take.

Reading Range / Text Complexity

10. Read and comprehend complex literary and informational texts independently and proficiently.

COMMON CORE STATE STANDARD WRITING COMPONENT:

Writing Anchor Standards (K-12)

Text Types & Purposes

1. Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.
2. Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.
3. Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details and well-structured event sequences.

Production & Distribution of Writing

4. Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
5. Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach.
6. Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and to interact and collaborate with others.

Research to Build Knowledge

7. Conduct short as well as more sustained research projects based on focused questions, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation.
8. Gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, assess the credibility and accuracy of each source, and integrate the information while avoiding plagiarism.
9. Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Range of Writing

10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences.

COMMON CORE STATE STANDARD SPEAKING AND LISTENING COMPONENTS:

Speaking and Listening Anchor Standards (K-12)

Comprehension & Collaboration

1. Apply knowledge of language to understand how language functions in different contexts, to make effective choices for meaning or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading or listening.

Vocabulary Acquisition and Use

4. Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words and phrases by using context clues, analyzing meaningful word parts, and consulting general and specialized reference materials, as appropriate.
5. Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings.

6. Acquire and use accurately a range of general academic and domain-specific words and phrases sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering an unknown term important to comprehension or expression.

DETAILED UNITS OF INSTRUCTION:

Unit 1: Introduction to iLit

Unit Overview: Students learn the routines and features of iLit, including how to use important instructional features of the program such as instruction and feedback when engaged in essay, paragraph, and summary writing; and how to use features in the Library, such as pronunciation help, translation, text audio, and definitions.

Unit 2: Media and Technology

Essential Question: Is privacy possible in a digital world?

Unit Overview: In this unit students will learn to set a purpose for reading and make and modify predictions. They will also visualize, make connections between text and self, and analyze character development and story elements. The unit culminates with a narrative essay in which students must organize a sequence of events, develop believable characters, use transitions and precise words as well as edit and revise their writing.

Anchor Text: Among the Hidden by Margaret Peterson Haddix; Genre: Novel; Fiction

Unit 3: Challenges

Essential Question: How do we reach beyond barriers?

Unit Overview: In this unit students will practice making connections and predictions as well as compare and contrast characters. Students will also learn to make generalizations and analyze theme, dialogue, main idea, and author's purpose. The unit culminates with a research paper for which students will learn to organize ideas, use transitions, identify sources, and take notes.

Anchor Text: Accidental Love by Gary Soto; Genre: Novel, Realistic Fiction

Unit 4: Conflict

Essential Question: Does Conflict ever make things better?

Unit Description: During unit 4, students will continue to set a purpose with reading, ask questions, and analyze author's purpose, cause-and-effect, and main idea and key details. Students will also practice their reading fluency with an emphasis on accuracy. This unit culminates with an explanatory essay with a focus on organizing ideas, effective introductions and conclusions, and revision.

Anchor Text: Don't Call Me a Hero by Ray Villareal; Genre: Novel; Realistic-Fiction

Unit 5: Learning

Essential Question: How does Learning change the way we see ourselves?

Anchor Text: Freak Unit Description: This unit emphasizes comparing and contrasting texts, analyzing dialogue, and theme development. Students will also be asked to summarize text, synthesize ideas, identify claims, and evaluate evidence. The unit culminates with a class discussion and multimedia presentation.

The Mighty by Rodman Philbrick; Genre: Novel, Fiction.

Unit 6: Human Rights

Essential Question: Why do we care about human rights and why should we speak up?

Unit Description: This unit will help students learn to preview and set a purpose for reading. They will also learn about cause and effect, making connections, analyzing ideas and events, as well as continue to practice their fluency and comparing multiple perspectives. The unit culminates in an argumentative essay for which they will need to articulate a central idea and both sides of an issue. Also, in order to practice their speaking and listening skills, students will present their argumentative essays and learn how to have collaborative conversations.

Anchor Text: Four Perfect Pebbles: A Holocaust Story by Lila Perl and Marion Blumenthal Lazan; Genre: Nonfiction, Memoir.

DISTRICT ESLRS TO BE ADDRESSED:

Students will be:

- Self-Directed Learners who read and write independently, gaining confidence in their abilities to think on their own and take responsibility for their own learning. They will be guided toward independent learning as a life-long tool for success in the classroom and beyond.
- Effective Communicators who are able to read clearly and project their voices; read with the appropriate inflection and emphasis; and participate appropriately in small group and class discussions.
- Collaborative Workers who are capable of working in both large and small groups in order to produce well-organized, thoughtful products such as group presentations on topics that are raised in reading.

Students will demonstrate a respect of the varying viewpoints offered from different members of a group and work produced by groups will demonstrate effort by all students.

- Constructive Thinkers who reflect on their reading and writing to enhance the outcomes of their work. Students will practice metacognitive strategies to improve their reading comprehension.
- Quality Producers/Performers who take pride in all assignments and realize the value of creating a product that is original in substance and an example of a personal best effort.
- Responsible Citizens who are prepared to contribute to our democracy in positive ways. Through their reading experiences students will gain an understanding of the responsibility, honor, and integrity that is essential to become a functioning member of our society.
